

FROM GRADIENT GIBBS MEASURES TO NONLINEAR ELASTICITY

ROMAN KOTECKÝ

The links between macroscopic elasticity with variational principles articulated in terms of nonlinear elastic free energy and equilibrium gradient models are discussed. In particular, results concerning large deviation principle and asymptotic behaviour in terms of gradient Young-Gibbs measures will be formulated. Based on a joint work with S. Luckhaus.